Art Unit: 1745

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Applicant's IDS of 31 August 2005, and the copies of PCT documents submitted therewith have been reviewed. These documents are from PCT/IL2005/000331, against which applicant's own PCT publication, WO 03/017392, has been cited as the only "X" reference. Since this is applicant's own disclosure, arising from PCT/IL02/00683, it does not constitute prior art against the present application. Of the references marked as "Y", WO 98/56458 and WO 00/62362 disclose the use of printing as a method of depositing electrode materials, but not the process of self-forming an interfacial separator layer within an electrolyte layer from components within the electrolyte solutions in the two electrode ("pole") layers. The references US 2003/0059673 and US 2003/0070283, also marked as "Y", are filed too recently to be prior art against the present application.
